MILLENCOLIN (Swe):

With an impressive string of releases behind them, touring all corners of the globe sharing the biggest stages on festivals in Australia and Europe and for the third time taking part of the American "Warped Tour" this summer, Sweden's finest MILLENCOLIN has turned into a universal punk success. With the new album "Kingwood" - released March 29 2005, once again the band has reinvented themselves with a sound that stays true both in style and spirit to Millencolin. The album was recorded in Årbro (Fascination Street Studio) and Gothenburg (Music-A-Matic) with producer Chips Kiesbye (The Hellcopters, Sahara Hotnights among others). New single/video "Shut You Out" out this fall!

FLOGGING MOLLY (USA):

Mixing punk influences and traditional Irish folk music, Flogging Molly is an irresistible band. When they take the stage the crowd goes mad! Since the release of their new album "Within a mile of home" (SideOneDummy Records), Flogging Molly have spend their days roaring up motor-ways the world over.... From a sold out UK tour to amazing performances at festivals all over Europe - Flogging Molly is stronger than ever and ready to take over the 1st Antidote tour. Get your Guinness ready!

RANDY (Swe):

With strong releases as the two latest albums "Human Atom Bombs" and "Welfare Problems" and extensive touring in the last couple of years (both on their own and with bands like NOFX, Propagandhi, Sahara Hotnights and The Hives), Randy has built an impressive fan base across the globe. This summer, Randy will record a new album which is scheduled for release on Burning Heart Records in October 2005.

THE UNSEEN (USA):

In this day and age of watered down principles, meaningless musical tags, and empty messages, it's refreshing to find a band who still knows who they are and what they stand for. The Unseen is one of those exceptions that you can call Punk Rock, the real deal, without raising any questions or doubts.

After their 2003 release "Explode" (BYO), The Unseen signed to the Hellcat family to release their latest "State Of Discontent" this May 2005. Produced by (Dropkick Murphy's) Ken Casey and mixed by Brett Gurewitz, "State Of Discontent" sounds incredibly powerful and is the more relevant today in the current music climate that churns out anti establishment cliches devoid of any true meaning. The Unseen have cut their teeth as a live band with countless US, European and Japanese tours with heavyweights like Sick Of It All, AFI, Agnostic Front or Dropkick Murphys as well as their own headlining gigs. The Unseen will be doing most of the Warped Tour this summer before hitting Europe in the Fall.

VANS:

Vans Inc., the Southern California-based action sports and lifestyle footwear, apparel, and snowboard boot manufacturer sold its first pair of shoes back in 1966. The founder of the company, Paul Van Doren (hence the Vans name), established the company to manufacture canvas shoes for direct sale to the public via locally based, company-owned stores. These classic Vans had a distinctive style that soon became the signature look of the company. From this starting point over 30 years ago, Vans has risen to become a worldwide force in the footwear and action sports markets, making it the brand of choice for people into action sports and the lifestyle that goes with them!

Vans is known for its support of the action sports scene and all that connects to this culture including music. Get more info about Vans at www.vans.com
